DON'T MISS MUSICAL REVUE

Ticket Drive Has Started

SOMETHING UNUSUAL

On Tuesday, April 30, at Grange Hall a Musical Revue will be presented by the Community Band Committee, under the direction of the capable, well known Marshall sisters of Lowell.

This Revue, a little out of the ordinary in Wilmington, is something seldom seen, not only here by anywhere.

Made up of a series of skits, put to music and dance steps, the Revue in itself is an unusual undertaking, but when you throw in 100 children ranging from 3 to 4 years up and 95 per cent of that 100 have never before taken part in anything like it, you have nothing short of a miracle. This you will agree when you see that show.

Three, yes even two years ago if anyone claimed it could be done, he or she would be told, you can't keep them together long enough to teach them. Well the boys and girls of Wilmington must have had a change of heart, for they have certainly been faithful to rehearsals.

During the next week, members of the committee will call at your home to try and interest you in the purchasing of tickets for this Revue. Buy at least one. It's for a worthy cause. Anything pertaining to the aiding or educating of children is a worthy cause. Don't miss the show, don't forget the date, April 30, don't forget the time, 8:00 P. M. Come See Wilmington's children at their best.

BAND COLORS TO BE MAROON AND GOLD

Committee Meets, Sunday at 2:30

A meeting of the local community band committee and parents of band members was held on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Legion Hall. Chairman Charles Cavanaugh presided.

During the meeting a Mr. Robinson spoke to the gathering and showed samples of band uniforms and it was agreed by the body that band colors will be Maroon and Gold.

Owing to the large membership of the band, a full uniform cannot be purchased this year and with this thought in mind it was agreed to purchase hats, ties and sash belts for the present. Balance of the uniform to purchased next year.

Camera Fan Shoots Night Circus Brings 'em Back Alive!

IF BOB could only have his way, a-hunting he would go—to darkest Africa in pursuit of big game. But Bob is no millionaire. So he satisfies his hunting instincts by shooting pictures—photos of everything. Bob, you see, is one of America's countless camera fans.

The circus played his town the other night. Bob had always wanted to snare some prize photoflash shots of circus acts. But how to do this, what with his seat in the crowd so far away from his quarry? That was the question. Here is his answer:

He captured circus scenes here shown with the aid of, believe it or not—with midgets. No . . . not with the help of the familiar circus midget. Truth is, Bob bagged each picture with a single tiny flash bulb no bigger than a walnut. So small yet so powerful is the peewee lamp that photographers are calling it the "mighty midget."

The rest of the story accounting for Bob's success in getting clear action shots from far away is this. He used high-speed film. He took advantage of the fact that the midget bulb's flash is a point-source of light. This permitted use of a spot-type reflector with the result that Bob was able to ride a powerful "bullet" of light at his distant targets.

Thus, not only Bob saw the circus, but so did his relatively inexpensive camera. No wonder he "brought 'em back alive."

CIVIC PRIDE OR SPITE?

At the meeting held in the Town Hall, Monday evening, on the question of the issuance of a liquor license to the Ritz Club, Inc., it was very evident that the citizens of this town have had their heads crammed full of falsified records and malicious lies in an endeavor to prevent the charter members form opening this club. We can offer plenty of proof, if it becomes necessary, that the backers of this movement are motivated by pure spite masked by their contention of civic pride.

In answer to the question of the depreciation of real estate values, just let anyone go to a real estate office in this town and try to rent or buy a house fit to live in, and they'll find that they are up against a stone wall. One of the prominent real estate dealers told me last week that he has exactly two houses for rent in this town at exorbitant prices and that if he had a hundred or more, he could rent or sell them in a week.

I can't understand how a liquor license in the Ritz Club, or any place else can effect the children of this town. At least 95 per cent of the business is conducted after 8 o'clock at night when children that are properly cared for, are in bed and asleep.

Let me correct the mistaken impression of just what a "Club" is supposed to be. It is not a place where children of seventeen are admitted as guests and served liquor. It is a state law that liquor cannot be served to anyone under twenty-one years of age. A Club is under the same jurisdiction as any other establishment, and the local police or A. B. C. representatives can come in at any time to see that the state and local laws are enforced. In a club, the officers act on applications for membership, admitting those who have proven themselves desirable as members, and rejecting those who are considered undesirable. The members are given a card, they pay their initiation fee, and they are subject to the rules governing the organization. No one is admitted to the club or allowed to purchase food or liquor unless they have a membership card. Should any member prove himself unworthy or create a disturbance, his card can be recalled at any time. A Club is governed by exactly the same laws as any other establishment, namely those set by the A. B. C. Board, the town ordinance and the Federal Government.

There are only three clubs in surrounding town, all conducted in a quiet, orderly manner, against which there are no complaints. The Middlesex County Club in North Reading, the Hofbrau Club in Billerica and the 1721 Club in Tewksbury. Any fair minded citizen will have to admit that these places are a credit to their community rather than a detriment.

Why can't Wilmington have such an organization?

The Fashion Frock Of The Week

A GLAMOROUS, COLORFUL PRINT As worn in Hollywood by ROCHELLE HUDSON

Paris predicts this will be a season of color. And the early popularity and demand for these brilliant screen prints bear out this style prophecy. This week's frock carries out the colorful idea in a novel square pattern, each square enhanced by a riot of color in alternating stripes, figures and figures. But in this newspaper reproduction it is impossible to portray the brilliance of the colors or show how they harmonize and blend into a beautiful, striking effect. The style, too, is charming. A smart band of grosgrain ribbon from neck to hem forms a perfect background for brilliant lucite buttons. Pleats on both sides of the skirt are very becoming and nicely new on a coat frock. Belt is of the dress fabric at the [illegible] wide to form a lovely [illegible] In front it has a pointed [illegible] ribbon with a slide [illegible]rant. A lovely [illegible] loveliness.

EDITORIAL

Wilmington is becoming baseball conscious. The boys of the High School are practicing and under the intelligent leadership of teacher-coach Harold Driscoll seems to be going places. Perhaps the boys of Wilmington High School will catch up with the girls.

After looking over coach Driscoll and the boys, I have the opinion that the boys very soon are going to step out in front and not have all the athletic glory going to the girls.

Girls look to it. Girls on your feet for the boys of Wilmington High School.

Up the common another crowd were practicing under the direction of officer Ed Waters, Clarence Ethier and Doc Fagan. Father Waters took over for a few minutes and very quickly convinced the boys that he knows baseball.

Under the honorary presidency of Fr. White, pastor of St. Thomas church, Fr. Waters has formed a league. Without any doubt this league will feed Wilmington H. S. with ball players and make it possible for Wilmington High to hold their own with anyone under the able direction of coach Driscoll.

Let's go to town for the boys, they look good, they should have our support, let's give it to them.

SENIOR CLAS SPLAY

When Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Tish" stories appeared in "The Saturday Evening Post" they were accorded such great acclaim that America's most gifted female novelist was compelled to write an entire series with the classically humorous "Tish" as the central figure.

Now Alice Chadwicke has adapted these stories for the theatre and turned them into a gay and joyous modern comedy, and the play will be presented here on Tuesday, April 23, at 8:00, P. M., at the Grange Hall, under the auspices of the Senior Class of 1940. Strangely enough this is not the first time that "Tish" has been turned into a play. The first dramatization of Mrs. Rinehart's most popular stories was made by that veteran dramatist, Edward E. Rose, as a starring vehicle for that magnificent star of the stage and screen, May Robson. Miss Robson opened in "Tish" at Powers Theatre in Chicago and after a good-sized run at that play-house made a short tour of the South. The following season she made a coast to coast tour in "Tish," playing to the absolute capacity of the theatres she appeared in. Since that time Mrs. Rinehart has written many more "Tish" stories, and it is these later and more modern tales that Alice Chadwicke has used as a source for her bright and exciting comedy. Apparently, "Tish" will never die. Recently Mrs. Rinehart's most popular heroine was bringing joy to thousands of listeners on the air with the popular and talented Broadway actress, Marion Barney, in the role of "Tish." These humorous stories have made millions of friends for Mrs. Rinehart.

"Tish" is the perennial spinster, loves adventure and always manages to get herself and her friends into a peck of trouble. Together with her two boon companions, Aggie and Lizzie, she experiences a variety of thrills and embarks on many strange adventures.

Miss Chadwicke has had access to all of the Mary Roberts Rinehart stories of "Tish" and has studied them diligently before making her own special dramatization. The result is a play that is crowded with laughter and one that will convulse audiences everywhere, thereby inspiring you to go to the theatre more often in the future.

WILMINGTON THEATRE

For those who like to laugh (and who doesn't?) the Wilmington Theatre offers entertainment galore during the coming week-end.

The stellar attraction for today and Saturday is the new mystery-comedy, "Charlie McCarthy, Detective" which presents the wise-cracking wooden wonder as a night club entertainer who (with Edgar Bergen, of course) finds himself hip deep in a baffling murder mystery. Mortimer Snerd, Bergen's other playmate and Charlie's particular pain in the neck, is also starred in the picture.

Also on the Fri.-Sat. program, Joe E. Brown's new laugh film, "Beware, Spooks!"

For Sunday and Monday the Wilmington Theatre presents Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell, in the delightfully different romantic comedy, "The Amazing Mr. Williams."

The added laugh riot for Sunday and Monday is "Henry Goes Arizona" with Frank Morgan and Virginia Weidler.

Next Wednesday and Thursday —"Those High Grey Walls"; and "Three Sons."
